

CONTENTS

Preface
Patrick HEINRICH and Yuko SUGITA	7
Japanese in European language education policy
Bernard SPOLSKY	9
Japanese as Foreign Language in the early twenty-first century – policy learners and native speakers
Tessa CARROLL	19
Japanese as Foreign Language in European universities – new students and/or new teaching paradigm?
Christian GALAN	33
Integration policy towards migrants in Japan with a focus on language
Ayako SHIKAMA	51
Establishing Okinawan heritage language education
Patrick HEINRICH	65
Speech perception across languages and writing systems – lessons for Japanese as Foreign Language from a commercial research project
Viktoria ESCHBACH-SZABO	87
Collective action choices in Japanese workplace interaction
Yuko SUGITA	95
On research in contact situations
Jiří V. NEUSTUPNÝ	123
Teaching Japanese interaction as a process of language manage- ment
Sau Kuen FAN	139

Acquisition of Japanese pitch accent by American learners Irina A. SHPORT	165
Reference introduction in speech and gesture – a comparison of Dutch and Japanese Keiko YOSHIOKA	189
The case particle ni and its acquisition Yuka ANDO	207
'Estimations' in Japanese – some empirical investigations and consequences for Japanese as Foreign Language Gerhard DILLMANN	227
Information on the authors	261